The Duplex Folding Chair

is designed for use on the porch or lawn, where solid comfort is the first essential. It is simple to handle, easy to open and to fold, occupies but little space when not in use, and is durable firm and strong.

It is possible to adjust the chair by simply changing position or shifting the weight when in the chair.

One can sit up, lie down, or recline in any way desired, for the chair is so well balanced that when you get into the "right" position you can stay there without any effort.

In the Duplex there are several decided improvements over all other similar chairs. The man who owns a folding chair does not always have a chest of tools at hand, and every other metal-frame folding chair requires some tool or tools to open it up, ready for use. The Duplex requires nothing but the hands.

On all chairs of this kind, the canvas used for the seat and back will stretch with use. The tightening of this in other chairs requires at least a screw driver, and in a little time the screw will fail to hold. This tightening of the canvas in the Duplex chair is provided for by a patent adjusting device which is simple, strong, and cannot wear out. The hands, again, are all that is required for adjusting.

Every Duplex Chair is warranted, and any chair showing defect in workmanship or material will be promptly replaced.

Ida M. Tarbell Says the Stock Market Is a Sort of Gentlemen's Club.

The following is an extract from an article by Ida M. Tarbell about the New York stock exchange, published in the June American magazine.

"It is a unique concern, having many of the characteristics of a gentlemen's club. Like a club it alone decides who can be admitted to membership. For forty-five years the membership of the Stock Exchange has been what it now is—1,100. Only death, expulsion or resignation makes room for a new member, and the applicant has to undergo a severe scrutiny, as well as pay a round sum for his seat. In 1869 a seat cost about $13,000, to-day it costs around $50,000. They have been sold as high as $85,000. Not all of these 1,110 members are active—probably not over 400 or 500—a large number are gentlemen of fortune, like the Rockefeller and the Goulds. There are perhaps 1550 non-resident members. The privileges which come from membership are those of buying and selling for a commission the stocks and bonds which the governing board permits to be listed on the exchange. That it is a valuable privilege is obvious, when one considers the volume of business done. In the last ten years the annual sale of stock has averaged nearly 200,000,000 shares, a business counting up to some $15,500,000,000. To this sum must be added bond sales amounting to some $800,000,000. It is far and away the biggest market for securities which exists in this country, and the prices which are made on its floor are accepted as the true value of the security the world over; even the courts and comptrollers of currency recognize them as authoritative."

New Lithographs by Pennell.

Joseph Pennell, whose lithographs of the Panama canal have recently been bought by the Italian and United States governments, has drawn for The Century six lithographs of the Grand Canon of the Colorado, which will appear in the June travel number.

We have moved from 24 Elm street to a larger and more commodious store at 10 Keith avenue, where, thanks to your generous patronage in the past, we are in a position to offer you a much larger selection and opportunity to inspect our goods. This week, commencing June 2, is our ANNIVERSARY WEEK. We will take particular pleasure in meeting our old customers at our new home during the week and will heartily welcome new ones. Our business is better equipped than ever to serve you by either of our three systems: Cash, Mill Orders or Installments.

We yield to none on cash purchases and can offer you advantages possessed by few on installments or mill orders. Our motto is "Increase the volume of business." There can be no good reason why credits must be confined to bankers, manufacturers and merchants. We will extend the most liberal credit to all resident persons whose past entitles them to credit.

Our Graniteville store under the management of S. N. Prescott will be possessed of all the advantages our Barre store has, as will also our Montpelier agents. Read what one of the greatest financiers of any age, James J. Hill, said in a speech before the St. Paul Association of Credit Men Feb. 11-13. He said: "The invention of money was a long step towards civilization, but the invention of credit was a greater. The world deals ever more largely with credit. Credit is the motive power of current enterprise." We respectfully agree with Mr. Hill and conduct ourselves accordingly.
